The young wife of an Italian grocer who is believed to have been the owner of the stills was found dead in the ruins after the fire was the young daughter, a babe in arms, which was clasped tightly in its mother's arms. A boy of eleven years was also badly hurt in the explosion and died shortly after being removed to a hospital.

WHAT YOUR PAPER IS WORTH IN TERMS OF COURT OPINION

Here is what you miss in money value every time the carrier boy fails to get your Progress to you:—

That a newspaper is worth to the subscriber many times the value placed upon it in fixing the retail selling price has long been a recognized fact. It has remained, however for a Cincinnati police court judge to measure its mental worth, or rather the lack of it, in dollars.

The stealer of a newspaper from a subscriber's front porch was apprehended and upon being brought into court was fined $5 because of the mental distress caused the victim. In passing sentence the judge commented: "When a man find his newspaper gone, his whole day is spoiled."

Newspapers only seem cheap to those who judge them in bundles; it is their absence that gives us a full appreciation of their value in our every day life.

WIRTH SAYS UNITED STATES MUST BECOME UMPIRE FOR BIG EUROPEAN GAME IN WHICH MILLIONS ARE AT STAKE

Berlin, Germany, Nov. 17.—"America must call a world economic conference. It is her duty," said Joseph Wirth, former Chancellor of Germany. Able to discuss freely the European situation, from within and without, since he threw off the mantle of resposibility in connection with the running of the German government. Wirth talked freely. His first thought was for the need of America being the dominent nation of the world, declaring that "the United States must take a decisive role on the reparations question. It must be the umpire." "Unless America does these things I see utter ruin for Europe."

Pointing out that Woodrow Wilson originated the fourteen points in which peace was arranged he said that no one in America appeared to want to see that the job was finished.

"Hammer Murderess" Is Guilty In Second Degree Says The Jury

Los Angeles, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted today of second degree murder, for beating Mrs. Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer, will seek a new trial and if that is denied will appeal, it was announced by Betram Harrington, her attorney.

"There is a fatal error in the record and finally Clara Phillips will be free," Herrington said. "I will not quit the fight until she is."

The motion for a new trial will be made when Mrs. Phillips is sentenced Monday. The verdict, which was a compromise one, from a jury of nine men and three women, carries a penalty of ten years to life imprisonment.

"I expected to be acquitted," Mrs Phillips said. "They did not give me a fair deal. I am going to ask my attorney to appeal and I believe with another trial I can be acquitted. I don't think I will go to the penitentiary.

Three women members of the jury voted for the death penalty until the compromise was reached, it was said.

Mrs. Peggy Caffee, the State's star witness, who Mrs Phillips said wielded the hammer, was released from technical custody today

Brother's Evidence Is Responsible For First Degree Murder Verdict

Talks along this line were made by Dr. Wilson, John Taylor, of State College, a former Clearfielder and guest of the Club, E. W. Hess and Secretary Howard Stewart.

DRY WORLD SEEN ON WAY BY W. C. T. U. HEAD

(Miss Anna Adams Gordon of Evanston, Ill., has just been elected president of the international body of the W. C. T. By ANNA ADAMS GORDON
President, World's Women's Christian Temperance Union

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—For 40 years the Women's Christian Temperance Union has been working for prohibition in 40 nations.

An international educational program has been conducted in practically every civilized part of the globe Thousands of workers speaking many languages have been carrying forward the work.

All over the world we have been imparting to peoples of all the races the fundamental knowledge of the effect of alcohol on the human system.

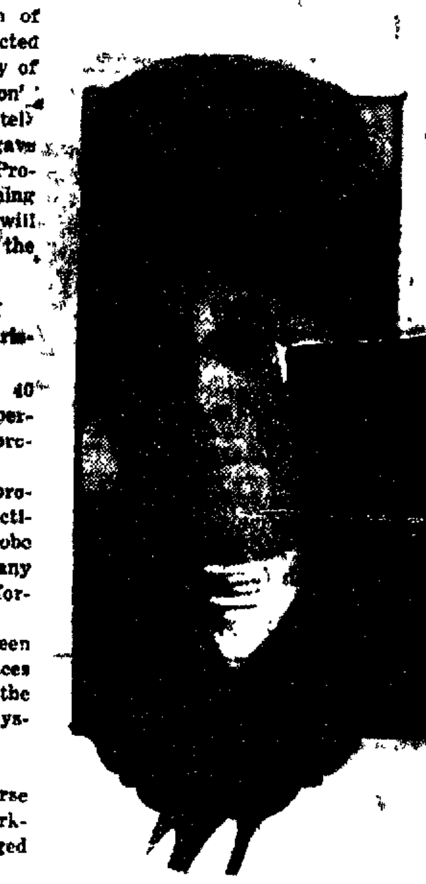

Discouraged and Encouraged

Difficulties and obstacles of course have beset these W. C. T. U. workers but they have been encouraged and cheered on by two facts:

One: They always have known they were a part of a great organization, that they were all banded together for one purpose, and could count on the support and co-operation of their fellow workers everywhere.

TWO: Almost from the beginning we achieved some results; and with the passin years and the extending of our efforts into newer and larger territories we have seen the work going successfully forward.

In recent years great strides toward world wide prohibition have been made. With these advancements many reinforcements have joined our ranks. Many rational, thinking men and women the world over who were not originally in sympathy with prohibition have come to see the sound scientific basis of our program and the necessity of our ... joined with us ... their best ef-

It is based on established scientific facts that prove beyond question the injurious effect of narcotics on the physical and nervous system.

We have worked largely with the school and other educational officials and authorities and almost without exception they have shown the keenest interest and readiest disposition to cooperate with us.

Second Ward People Have Real Community Spirit These Days

The community masquerade party in the Reedsville hose house was the success that neighborhood gatherings in Second Ward always are. As usual, the firemen were behind the scheme, issuing the invitation and playing hosts in their big roomy hall.

By count at the door, there were 250 present, with 127 in costume to be reviewed by the judges, S. B. Smith, James McLaughlin and Richard Fleck. Those awarded were 1st, Ed Blake; 2nd, Mrs. Lloyd Wilson; 3rd, Milford Thomas. The crowd amused themselves with games and dancing, square and round, well mixed in with general neighborly visiting The inspiration was entirely originated in Reedsville, proving that the Second Ward people have the real community idea.

Girl Scout troop 5 hiked out to Carter's Green last night with their captain, Miss Grace Butler. Camp fire, bacon, rolls and frankfurters were on the program as usual. This is just the sort of thing the Scouts are up to all the time.

Sanity Of Alleged "Twin Bluebeards" Tested By Expert

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—The sanity of the alleged "twin Bluebeards" was tested today on order of the Chicago courts. Dr. William J. Hickson, city psychopathic expert, was with the women for over four hours during which time he applied every test known to modern science to determine whether the woman should be held criminally responsible for the many crimes charged against them. At the conclusion of the tests he announced that he believed the woman sane although there was a trace of dementia praecox. During the examination Mrs. Klimek sneered and grunted at the questions and gave little assistance to the examiner.

A friend of the Klimek woman today told the authorities some wild stories about her neighbor, stories which she said were unbelievable and which she did not repeat heretofore. One of them was that after the death of her third husband Mrs. Klimek told her of his death and of how she lifted his head in the coffin and laughing in his face said, "You'll never get up again, damn you."

Heart Broken Mother Begins Crusade To Clear Son's Memory

Wife of The Major General Believed That Son Had Been Foully Slain

By FRANK A. CLARVOE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER II

The war with the Central Powers came to a successful conclusion, Nov. 11, 1918. On or about that day another war started, the war of a heart-broken mother determined to vindicate the character of her boy and remove from his name forever whatever doubt there might have been in the minds of some as to manner of his death.

Mrs. Adelbert Cronkhite, wife of Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, commander of the 80th. division of the A. E. F., and mother of Major Alexander Cronkhite, killed at Camp Lewis by the accidental discharge of his own automatic while shooting at a target, according to the verdict of an army board of inquiry, started a personal investigation of the circumstances surrounding her son's death.

This necessitated long trips to various parts of the country, the interviewing of numbers of officers and men who had known her son and former Captain Rosenbluth, and the writing of hundreds of letters to men who might have even a remote knowledge of the tragedy at Camp Lewis the afternoon of October 25, 1918. She was aided in this work by General Cronkhite when he returned from France.

So energetically did Mrs. Cronkhite work that she was able to gather a mass of evidence. She turned this over to the department of justice together with the report of a number of experts Mrs Cronkhite had employed to exhume the body of her son and examine the wound. These experts reported that the major could not have inflicted the wound himself either by accident or design. Major Cronkhite was right handed and would have had great difficulty in shooting himself in the right arm pit in the manner in which the wound was inflicted, these experts claimed. The department of justice into session, and for the second time a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Thus ending the second episode of the search for the slayer of Major Cronkhite.

Mrs. Cronkhite's investigation extended well into 1919. Ostensibly her investigation ended with the verdict of the second board of inquiry Actually it did not. Both Major General and Mrs. Cronkhite appeared tireless in their search for evidence which would convince the authorities that her son was murdered, and not shot by a weapon in his own hand, either accidentally or by design.

First Real Sensation

It was in 1921 that the first real sensation was caused in the Cronkhite case, as it came to be called in official army circles and among editors and the public generally. On March 17, 1921, Roland H. Pothier, former bugler sergeant, was arrested in the Auburn freight yards at Providence R. I. He was jailed, and on March 19 it was learned that Pothier had confessed in full to the murder of Major Alexander Cronkhite. He pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter. Great mystery surrounded his arrest, a mystery seemingly as unfathomable as that surrounding the arrest of ex-Captain Robert P. Rosenbluth in the Civic club in New York City March 23, 1921. Rosenbluth apparently could shed no light upon the arrest of either Pothier or himself.

Then it was announced that Rosenbluth was charged with the murder of Major Cronkhite at Camp Lewis in 1918 It was learned that in five affidavits Pothier charged that Rosenbluth gave him an automatic a few days before the fatal practice march and told him: "I want to 'get' Major Cronkhite." According to Pothier's confession, no reason had been given by Rosenbluth for the deed. Pothier said Rosenbluth promised him immunity. Pothier went on to say ...

AVOID CANCER BY ATTENDING THE FREE LECTURE AT THE HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT TO LEARN HOW TO PREVENT

Dr. Weil of the University of Pittsburg will be the speaker at a meeting to be held at the High School auditorium this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Dr. Weil will talk on cancer under the auspices of the Clearfield County Cancer Committee.

Admission to the lecture will be free to all and everybody who can possibly do so should attend.

The following brief story or statement of facts supplies the reason or absolute necessity for such an enlightenment of our citizenship as Dr Weil will give in his lecture this evening:

Cancer's Death Toll

Cancer killed 7,586 people in Pennsylvania in 1921. This is a death rate of 85.5 per 100,000 population, a higher rate than that caused by tuberculosis of the lungs, which was 78.9 higher than the diphtheria rate, 22.5, or typhoid fever, 7.3.

Cancer brings death in an agonizing form, yet the disease is often curable if taken in time.

The State health commissioner says: "A death from cancer of the skin of of the mucous membrane near the skin, as the mouth, lips, tongue or cheek is an entirely avoidable death. These cancers in their beginnings can always be cured. ... mation which ultimately turns into cancer. A wart which grows and becomes inflamed, a mole which exhibits the same tendency, a little skin patch which scales and persists, these are the common signs which require attention and which can be cured before cancer develops.

"A painless application of radium will usually cure it," he continued "Sometimes the knife under local anesthesia, which makes the procedure so painless there is not even a wrinkling of the brow when the needful cut is made and the one or two stitches applied A sore spot on the lip which persists more than a few days may be the forerunner of cancer—fever blisters last at most but a few days Persistent sores on the tongue or cheek should be regarded in the same light Lumps in the breast or growing anywhere call for immediate attention By modern methods the removal of growths is entirely safe and painless

"Internal cancer could be cured, and always, except that in its beginning it usually gives no sign and not until it is largely developed can it be detected by examination"

During the World war the United States lost 80,000 men, and in the Sunday Clearfield Chapter American Red Cross which embraces practically all of the county except DuBois, Morris and Cooper townships, will carry on the annual Roll Call for Red Cross Members. It is inconceivable of course that anybody who can possibly spare a dollar will not have it ready and be waiting for the house to house solicitors when they call here in Clearfield on Sunday for the memberships. There will be a heavy re-enlistment in all the other towns and in the communities under the banner of Clearfield Chapter.

Last year and every year before it was a common occurrence for those who were unavoidably away from home to let their dollar with a neighbor to be given to the solicitor. Many Many of the solicitors found people waiting on the porch with the money for not only one member of the household, but in many instances, a dollar for each one in the family, and then the membership card was proudly displayed in the window. In some homes these cards are kept in the windows the year around and no better example of true citizenship could be followed.

The work of the Red Cross in this community is too well known to need any great publicity in preparation for the roll call solicitation but here is an example of one of the dozens of cases the Red Cross nurse finds and how it was handled:

"Family in poor circumstances—Husband out of work, back with the rent for two months.

4 children, ages 7, 5, 3 and 1.

Mother came to the office asking for help in way of clothing for oldest child. Unable to go to school. No clothing or shoes. Has had pneumonia.

Secure relief through another organization. Saw real estate dealer, he saying he would not push them for payment of rent. Very grateful.

At a later date Nurse received letter from mother saying she had been sick for two weeks asking nurse to come in. Nurse found patient suffering from an attack of grippe. Gave nursing care and arranged to have physician attend her. After she had recovered secured employment for mother when she was able to work.

Later when the baby became ill nurse arranged to have the baby admitted to hospital as patient. As it was necessary for mother to be with the baby at stated intervals during the day employment was secured for mother at hospital where she stayed until the baby died.

Husband now working and family is self supporting."

The question arises, "what would have become of this family without the agency of the Red Cross?" We hesitate to imagine. No doubt the little home would have been broken up, and the home is the very hearthstone of our republic.

This is only one case. In the larger field in this Chapter there were 3256 nursing visits to homes, 2196 made pilgrimages to headquarters for help; 642 babies were brought to the rooms for attention; a total of 6226 lives made brighter. Isn't that worth a dollar a year to you?

6268 school children were examined by a physician in the presence of these nurses who in each case gave advice and help which prevented sickness and pain and will make of these boys and girls healthy, upright citizens.

HEART BROKEN MOTHER

Cronkhite was some yards away from the column of troops setting a tobacco can on a bush to use as a target. Pothier said he slipped three shells into his automatic while the officer's attention was thus engaged, and fired one shot wild. Major Cronkhite turned, and as he did so, Pothier fired again, where, he said, Rosenbluth had told him to shoot the major.

Just after he fired, Pothier said he heard a second shot, and Rosenbluth came running up. He looked at the major and said: "I think he's dead." The captain then drew his superior officer's body parallel with the roadside and whipped out his automatic, Pothier said he noticed the flap was loosened, fired at the tobacco can.

"If anybody says anything, you say he shot himself while shooting at that can," Pothier said Rosenbluth told him. This, according to Pothier, was the account not told at the board hearing, where the major's death was declared to have been accidental.

A reason for Rosenbluth's alleged action was given by a department of justice agent, who reported that Mrs. Cronkhite had discovered that Rosenbluth was angered at Major Cronkhite, who was 24 years old and 16 years Rosenbluth's junior, because Cronkhite had been severe in his attitude toward Rosenbluth's low grade as an officer. Rosenbluth, this report said, knew that Major Cronkhite was giving him his final test on the practice march, and had determined to make an end of him.

Denies Entire Story

Rosenbluth, when confronted with Pothier's confession, denied the entire story, declaring that he and Cronkhite were good friends, and that the latter had been instrumental in bringing him, Rosenbluth, to Camp Lewis from Camp Forrest, Ga., as a member of the 213th. engineers, and had caused him to be placed at the head of Company D. Rosenbluth said he was present at the time the major was killed, but that he had approached the spot with his column from an entirely different direction had halted his column 40 yards distant, and had moved forward alone to watch Conkhite shoot. Pothier Rosenbluth said, was standing near the major.

"I got it, Rosy," Rosenbluth said the major announced gleefully, as he came up, then, a moment later: "My God, I'm shot." Rosenbluth said he snatched at the officer as he fell, and for a moment did not realize he had been shot. He thought it might have been heart disease. Cronkhite was dead in two minutes, and his body was taken to the camp hospital.

Rosenbluth was released on twenty five thousand dollar bail, having retained counsel who forthwith went to Washington to see Attorney General Daugherty. The Providence, R. I., American Legion assigned Major Davis G. Arnold to handle Pothier's case. On April 19 Attorney General Daugherty, at the instance of Senator William M. Calder, of New York and Herbert Hoover, who formerly had been Rosenbluth's employer, had talked with Rosenbluth and promised personally to handle the investigation of the murder charges against him.

This Daugherty apparently did, with the aid of several operatives. On April 21, Senator Calder announced that Major Arnold had revealed to him that Pothier repudiated his confession of a month previous, and had been released on $10,000 bail. Pothier had decleared both he and Rosenbluth were innocent of any connection with the death of Cronkhite, according to Arnold.

On July 16 Attorney General Daugherty announced that the charges against both Rosenbluth and Pothier would be dropped by the government since he believed the federal government had no jurisdiction in the matter. His basis, for this contention, it was announced, was that the spot where Cronkhite was killed was on land forming a part of the later military reservation but which had not, on October 25, 1918, been deeded by the state to the United since Cronkhite was killed on land which at that time belonged to Pierce county. Selden announced that he States government. Daugherty announced this contention later in a signed statement August 20, 1921, it was reported, and turned over all data connected with the case to Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Selden, of Pierce county, Washington, as the officer having proper jurisdiction, would not take action against the two men with the evidence then in his possession, and there the matter seemed to rest. Apparently the case had been dropped, and Rosenbluth in a published statement July 18, 1921, deplored the fact that he had not been vindicated, and reiterated earlier statements that for some reason or other "somebody had it in for him and was trying to get him".

OFFICIALS CONFER PRIOR TO SENDING EVIDENCE TO JURY

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 17.—Special Prosecutor Mott and the county officials met at Sommerville today to make the final arrangements for the presentation of the Halls-Mills case to the Grand Jury on Monday.

Prosecutor Mott declared that the case is complete and the sooner the jury gets it the better. He has previously, however, let it be known that he would not attempt to force an indictment. "That is for the jury," he said "Their's is the responsibility."

Detective Mason told the newspaper men that at least two witnesses, very important ones, would be called before the Grand Jury who have never figured in the news.

If Congress legalizes beer and wine taxes from that source would pay off the nation's entire debt in twenty years, Treasury experts declare.

The national debt is $23,000,000,000. More than $1,000,000,000 a year revenue is possible from beer and wine taxes—leaving hard liquor out of consideration.

The tax experts of the Treasury have prepared these figures in anticipation of a call from Congress for data on which to gauge possible tax revision.

The people in England and America are drifting farther and farther away from organized Christianity, according to J. Rountree Gillett, of London, in a recent lecture in Philadelphia.

"Certainly in England life is drifting away from organized religion," says Mr. Gillett. "Only 16 per cent of the English people attend any place of worship, which means that 84 per cent. are entirely free of any religious association."

Mr. Gillett said this tendency in America and England to "isolate" religion and keep it "apart from the life of the community" was a dangerous sign of the times.

"Society will soon be living without any ideal, or any standard," he declared.

DETROIT PLAN OF PENALIZING AUTO DRIVERS SPREADS

New York City, Nov. 17.—The Detroit plan of punishing speeders and reckless automobile drivers in forcing the defendants to parade before a long row of cots on which lay crippled children, the victims of speed fiends and reckless drivers, met with hearty endorsement from practically all traffic court judges here today. Only two judges interviewed failed to give hearty endorsement.

The idea of inflicting mental torment and humiliation on the speeders originated with Judge Bartlett of Detroit and it is believed that it will soon be put into practice in other communities which have been unable to curb automobile owners. There is also an agitation for having the same punishment inflicted on parents who permit their children to wander in the streets.

"Don't Get Up Nights Anymore"

Indiana Manufacturer Suffered with Bladder Trouble for Years. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) Made Him Well.

No one need suffer the pain and annoyance of bladder trouble, getting up many times each night. C. F. Melcher, Vevay, Ind., manufacturer, says: "I took Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) in April and have been waiting until August to see if the good results were going to be permanent. I am confident I am all O. K. In fact, I feel as well as ever. Before I took Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) I had to get up two to five times every hour at night and was bothered nearly as much in daytime. It got so bad I could not go any place to visit or work, for I had no control of my bladder. I am all right now and have no trouble at all. I will be glad to tell any sufferer what Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) did for me."

Sufferers from bladder trouble will be surprised at the impurities passed after a few doses of Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula). These impurities cause the bladder trouble. This is not a patent medicine. The formula is printed on the package. It acts on the kidneys and bladder similarly as do Epsom Salts on the bowels. Try a few doses for frequent desire at night, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine. Lithiated Buchu tablets (Keller formula) is not a cheap medicine. They cost 2c each and contain several drugs which are useful for relief of this trouble. Learn all about Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) at Stewart's Drug Store and druggists everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O.

When Guests Come to Tea

YOU CAN SET A MORE ATTRACTIVE TABLE IF YOU'LL ALLOW US TO LAUNDER THE LINEN

The table you set for tea can be made more attractive, more dainty, if you'll have us launder the table linen.

All you need do is to bundle up everything and phone for our representative.

A few days later your washing is returned spotlessly clean and white, with everything thoroughly washed, the flat pieces beautifully ironed, garments which need it starched, and with only a few of the lighter things for you to finish at your leisure.

Women who use this service tell us it really cots less to launder this way than to have a laundress.

We'd like to tell you more about it. Telephone and we'll have a representative call .

The Department of Commerce announces that the returns compiled by the Bureau of Census show that over seventy-six thousand deaths were due to cancer in the death registration area of the United States in 1921, and assuming that the rest of the Untied States had as many deaths from this cause in proportion to the population, the total number of deaths from cancer in the entire United States for 1921 was 93,000, while for 1920 the number is estimated as 89,000 or 4,000 less than for 1921.

The trend of the cancer death rate is upward, the rate for 1921 being higher than that for any earlier year in 23 of the 34 states for which rates are shown in the following table. The cancer death rate in the registration area in 1921 was 86 per 100,000 population, against 83.4 for 1920. In comparing the death rate from cancer in one state with that in another, the Bureau uses "adjusted" rates in order to make allowance for differences in the age and the sex distribution of the population, because, generally speaking, only persons in middle life and old age have cancer, so that a state with many old persons may be expected to have more deaths from cancer than a state with comparatively few old persons.

The highest "adjusted" cancer rate for 1921 is 99.6 per 100,000 population for the state of Massachusetts, and the lowest is 47.6 for the state of South Carolina.

For a few states adjusted rates have been calculated separately for the white and colored population. In this group of states the highest adjusted cancer rate for the white population is 95.9 per 100,000 population for New York and the highest rate for the colored population is 90.6 also for New York. The lowest adjusted cancer rate for the white population is 51.5 for Tennessee and the lowest for the colored population is 36.4 for Florida.

Summarized briefly, the adjusted rates show that the Northern states have comparatively high and the Southern states comparatively low cancer mortality, while there is little difference between the adjusted cancer rates of the white and colored races of the same states. In other words the white and colored races seem equally susceptible to cancer, but both races seem less susceptible in the South than in the North.

In Pennsylvania during 1921 there were 7,588 deaths from cancer, an average of 84 persons per 100,000 population, which by the way is the population of this county.

Hear the cancer discussion at the High School tonight.

THE OLD HOME TOWN —:— By Stanley

FREIGHT SERVICE RENDERED BY N. Y. C. IN OCTOBER WAS A RECORD BREAKER

A total of 850,[illegible] tons of freight were moved during the month. The number of cars loaded at stations on the lines reached the heretofore unequalled figure of 406,[illegible], while 443,966 cars were received from connections.

The nearest approach to this record-breaking performance in freight movement was in August, 1920. During that month the New York Central Lines moved 834,244 cars of freight. The number of cars loaded at stations on the lines was 381,718 and 452,[illegible] cars were received from connections for movement to destination.

September and October, 1920, also were banner months. In September 388,[illegible]0 cars of freight were loaded at points on the lines and 419,775 cars were received from connections, making a total of 808,615 cars. In October 392,425 cars were loaded at stations on the lines and 436,584 cars were received from connections, a total of 823,009 cars.

Box-car loadings for the months of October this year, exclusive of automobiles, were the largest in the history of the New York Central system. On an average 8427 box cars were loaded daily, on a total of 219,102 cars for the 26 working days of the month. The daily average was 721 box cars more than for October, 1921.

During October of last year the daily loadings of box cars averaged 7706, on a total of 200,,856 for the 26 working days of the month. The total number of box cars loaded in October 1920 was 194,451.

The percentage increase in the average daily loading of box cars for October this year over the same month last year was 9.2 per cent and the increase over October, 1920, was 12.8 per cent.

September had set a high record for box car loadings, the daily average having been 8230 cars. This was ten cars above the daily average for the month of August.

The figures on box car loadings do not include automobile and refrigerator cars.

The gigantic proportions of the freight business of the New York Central lines for the last month made unprecedented demands upon railroad yard facilities. All freight moving both East and West over the New York Central passes through Syracuse. In order to avoid congestion in the yards at this point, a number of trains have been dispatched intact through this important gateway, switching being done at other points where the demands upon yard facilities were not so great.

The biggest day in the Syracuse yards was on October 6th, when 9,263 cars of freight were hauled. If these cars had been made up in one train, it would have extended from Syracuse to Rochester, a distance of more than seventy miles.

The heavy movement of freight is still under way, indicating that November will be another record-breaking month.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL TO GO ON FLOOR ON SATISFACTORY TERM

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—The administration ship subsidy bill which is coming up before the next session which will meet on Monday will go on the floor without any gag rule, according to an announcement made after a conference at which were present Mr. Gillette, Mondell Campbell and members of the Republican steering committee. The leaders thought it wise owing to the opposition from both the Republicans and Democrats to let the bill go on the floor subject to any and all kinds of amendments in order that it might be put in a form satisfactory to all and not come to a premature vote without every consideration.

Each manager is an expert painter who knows his business from the ground up. They can take an old auto and make it look like new. Their work in getting the surface has been the comment of the entire community. Then they put on a series of the best of varnishes and allow plenty of time for them to thoroly dry, thus insuring everyone a first class job that will neither crack nor peel.

The trimming department is also quite a modern and scientifically equipped one and in charge are experts who have turned out the many fine jobs that have won for this establishment such an enviable reputation. This is work that appeals to finer sensibilities and harmonizes with the lines and adornment of the automobile.

The Guelich-Emery Co., Inc., is an important feature of the life of the community, and no matter what [illegible] your needs in this line, when in [illegible] call at the place you will find courteous and accommodating, efficient and capable. The charges are always right.

Mr. W. C. Potter, formerly with the DuBois Garage, has charge of the finishing of all work turned out by this concern. He has been in the business for thirty years and ranks with the finest finishers in the country.

Every paint job is guaranteed to be absolutely satisfactory both as to appearance and durability.

Housing Construction Is Breaking All Records

Two Billion Dollars Invested in New Homes During First Nine Months of 1922—Fireproof Construction Favored—Rents Steady.

The year 1922, despite labor unrest and high prices, is setting a remarkable record in building construction in the United States. In the first nine months, new housing contracts totaled more than during the same period in any previous year of the nation's history. The value of the new homes constructed during that time is in excess of $2,000,000,000 and is 51 per cent greater than the building contracted for during the same period in 1921.

One feature, that investigation of housing construction develops, is the great percentage of new homes now being built by laboring men. Another indicates that substitutes for wood are now used in greater volume. These include steel and other metal frames and fittings, asphalt shingles and roll roofings.

Builders of new houses seem to be taking more to heart the lesson that government officials and conservationists have been driving home for years,—the lesson that the timber supply of America must be conserved. And in learning this lesson they have found that not only can substitutes for wood be used to advantage but that these substitutes make for economy, add to the life of the structure and reduce the costs of insurance and maintainance.

Fire Protection Demanded

The reports show that the average builder also is demanding all the fire and cyclone protection he can secure without unduly increasing his costs. If he lives in a section where violent windstorms occur, he is laying a roof that will "stay put." Where he encounters heavy fire risks he is seeking a material that has great fire-resistant quality. A roofing material of proven merit both from the storm-resistant and the fire-resistant standpoint is that is now being most widely used is the asphalt shingle.

Not long ago one of the leading cities in the South was swept by one of the most severe hurricanes ever recorded by the U. S. Weather Bureau. Property to the extent of millions of dollars in value was destroyed or damaged. Buildings were crushed and roofs were ripped off and scattered in every direction, yet in all of the devastated area, despite the 70 mile wind, not one asphalt shingle roof was damaged. Not one shingle was upturned and not a single leak developed. Asphalt shingles are not only waterproof but are impervious to freezing and to the rays of a hot sun.

The report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters on the recent disaster at Atlanta, Ga., showed that homes roofed with asphalt shingles ably resisted the flames. In some instances, while surrounding homes were destroyed, houses covered with asphalt roofing failed to ignite and remained intact.

Home Owners Increasing

Less than 50 per cent of the American people are homeowners and only 20 per cent of American dwellings come up to the recognized standards. There has never been so great an interest in new dwellings and improvement of houses already built as shown this year. In 1920 there were 11,400,000 home owners in the country. The number has been greatly increased during the intervening two years. There are 13,000,000 home owners in the United States today.

Reports show that there is now no housing shortage in Boston, and rents on residential and business properties are classed as steady; Charleston has a housing problem, but rents are slightly reduced; Dallas has no housing shortage, and the trend of rents for homes is downward; Harrisburg, Pa., is short of homes, although building operations have doubled; Marion, Ohio, has no shortage and rents are stationary; Norfolk has favorable conditions, and some reductions in rent are noted; in Pittsburg conditions are normal and rents steady; Palm Beach has enough houses, and in Yonkers there is a shortage, with rents holding fast.

Havoc wrought by wind storm in the South—Many roofs of fireproof construction withstood the force of the elements, showing the great resistance of such construction to high winds.

PACKERS SEEK TO MERGE HOLDINGS IN TWO BIG UNITS

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—Alignment of the five great packing houses of the nation under two dominant groups or units under the leadership of Armour and Swift is the object of the present merger proposition which has been laid before the Federal government.

The present scheme is for Armour to buy the holdings of the Morris Company and then buy out Wilson. Morris always opposed the purchase of the Wilson interests fearing the strength of Armour. If these two purchases are made then it is the plan for Swift to take over the Cudahy plants and operate them as one unit.

Coats Are Shorter

Now that the vogue of the very short coat of fur is firmly established the fashionable woman begins to look for novelty and attractive separate skirts. She finds them of camel's hair, buff-colored, checked and woolly in many different models. For afternoon costumes velvet and velveteen are most in demand and are shown in drapod models.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep and figure droops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age. Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance and happy. When headache, backache, or "the blues" develops or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are constantly publishing in this paper.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Harvey Cook & Son have started the erection of an ice plant on North Filbert street. The building will be of brick and in size 50x25 feet. The plant is close to the run and that water will be used in the condensers, but the water for the ice itself will be taken from the Raftsman water main. What is known as the York machinery will be installed. The promoters expect to have the plant completed and in running order by the first of February. No more ice will be cut and housed in the large building at the river

Kelly is the most successful hunter that we have heard of so far this season. He was on the mountain the other day hunting pheasants and in shooting at and killing one bird, as he thought, he discovered that he had bagged three at one shot, having only seen one when he pulled the trigger. He always was a lucky cuss either in fishing or hunting, and the three birds at one shot is not such an amazing feat after all for him.

Sister Laura Gilliland, of Clearfield, who for seven years has seen service in Muhlinburg Mission, Liberia, Africa, will speak in the Lutheran church, this place, on Tuesday evening, November 21st, at 7:30 o'clock. To this service the public is most cordially invited.

A drive for membership to the Red Cross will be made on Sunday afternoon. The town will be doled off into eleven districts and authorized persons will visit all homes, asking each member of families to take out a membership card, the cost of which will be the sum of $1.00. Curwensville division has at the present time nearly 500 members on the roll, and it is the desire of those who have the work in hand to enroll a sufficient number of new names to run the list to the 1000 mark. The Red Cross society has done some wonderful good work in Curwensville during the year past, and if the populace gives it the financial encouragement that it should the Red Cross workers can reach out and extend help and succor to those who will be in need of their services. Miss Witherow, the Red Cross nurse that was stationed here, accompanied by a physician, examined in Curwensville, Mahaffey and vicinity 2190 school children, and the total number of persons directly affected by the nursing activities of Clearfield Chapter reached 14,914 Push the good work along and take out a membership card when approached in your homes on Sunday.

Believed Open Lamps Were Cause Of The Spangler Catastrophe

Spangler, Pa., Nov 16—The inquest to fix responsibility for the Reilly mine disaster will be held next Tuesday it was announced tonight by Coroner Swabb

Seward Button, the mine inspector, completed his investigation and returned to Harrisburg. He said he took the view of most of the miners — one of the victims wearing an open lamp walked into a pocket of gas and the explosion followed

Several of the miners who were rescued and others who did not work on the day of the tragedy said that it was not uncommon to use open lamps.

OPENING OF LINK FROM BROOKVILLE TO CLARION CAUSE FOR CELEBRATION

Brookville, Pa., Nov. 16.—Clarion, Brookville and intervening points yesterday afternoon celebrated the opening of the Brookville to Clarion improved road, a section of the Lakes-to-Sea highway.

Promptly at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a point near Corsica at which autos had been detouring for many, many months, Thomas North, Jr., principal of the Corsica Vocational School, used a pair of scissors to snip a ribbon that was stretched across the highway. Simultaneously the Brookville band struck up a lively air and amidst vociferous cheering Lee Humphreys, of Brookville, generally conceded to be the man largely responsible for the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway, drove his car across the line and on to Clarion, followed by a large fleet of cars.

With hundreds of Clarion citizens participating the event was celebrated in Brookville yesterday afternoon and last evening several hundred Brookville residents, accompanied by the county seat band, motored to Clarion where further celebration was held.

Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the recently completed stretch between Reynoldsville and Emerickville will be opened with appropriate ceremony. This will open a section of completed road nearly 80 miles in extent.

A Great Gift.

It is a great gift, you know—that of being really friendly with very different people. It is a pity more of us haven't it. To associate with the same kind of people all the time is apt to make one just a little narrow and dull, don't you think?

Hookworm is World Menace.

Of the estimated 1,700,000,000 people inhabiting the world, something more than 900,000,000 live in countries where hookworm infection is a serious menace to health and working efficiency. With increasing pressure for the development of tropical and sub-tropical lands, the control of this disease—as of malaria and sleeping sickness—becomes a matter of serious international concern.—Thrift Magazine.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-Known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of Sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulpuhr Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulpuhr Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss

The young wife of an Italian grocer who is believed to have been the owner of the stills was found dead in the ruins after the fire as was the young daughter, a babe in arms, which was clasped tightly in its mother's arms. WHAT YOUR PAPER IS WORTH IN TERMS OF COURT OPINION

Here is what you miss in money value every time the carrier boy fails to get your Progress to you:—

That a newspaper is worth to the subscriber many times the value placed upon it in fixing the retail selling price has long been a recognized fact. It has remained, however for a Cincinnati police court judge to measure its mental worth, or rather the lack of it, in dollars.

The stealer of a newspaper from a subscriber's front porch was apprehended and upon being brought into court was fined $5 because of the mental distress caused the victim. In passing sentence the judge commented: "When a man find his newspaper gone, his whole day is spoiled."

Newspapers only seem cheap to those who judge them in bundles; it is their absence that gives us a full appreciation of their value in our every day life.

WIRTH SAYS UNITED STATES MUST BECOME UMPIRE FOR BIG EUROPEAN GAME IN WHICH MILLIONS ARE AT STAKE

Berlin, Germany, Nov. 17.—"America must call a world economic conference. It is her duty," said Joseph Wirth, former Chancellor of Germany. Able to discuss freely the European situation, from within and without, since he threw off the mantle of resposibility in connection with the running of the German government. Wirth talked freely. His first thought was for the need of America being the dominent nation of the world, declaring that "the United States must take a decisive role on the reparations question. It must be the umpire." "Unless America does these things I see utter ruin for Europe."

Pointing out that Woodrow Wilson originated the fourteen points in which peace was arranged he said that no one in America appeared to want to see that the job was finished.

"Hammer Murderess" Is Guilty In Second Degree Says The Jury

Los Angeles, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted today of second degree murder, for beating Mrs. Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer, will seek a new trial and if that is denied will appeal, it was announced by Betram Harrington, her attorney.

"There is a fatal error in the record and finally Clara Phillips will be free," Herrington said. "I will not quit the fight until she is."

The motion for a new trial will be made when Mrs. Phillips is sentenced Monday. The verdict, which was a compromise one, from a jury of nine men and three women, carries a penalty of ten years to life imprisonment.

"I expected to be acquitted," Mrs Phillips said. "They did not give me a fair deal. I am going to ask my attorney to appeal and I believe with another trial I can be acquitted. I don't think I will go to the penitentiary.

Three women members of the jury voted for the death penalty until the compromise was reached, it was said.

AVOID CANCER BY ATTENDING THE FREE LECTURE AT THE HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT TO LEARN HOW TO PREVENT

Dr. Weil of the University of Pittsburg will be the speaker at a meeting to be held at the High School auditorium this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Dr. Weil will talk on cancer under the auspices of the Clearfield County Cancer Committee.

Admission to the lecture will be free to all and everybody who can possibly do so should attend.

The following brief story or statement of facts supplies the reason or absolute necessity for such an enlightenment of our citizenship as Dr Weil will give in his lecture this evening:

Cancer's Death Toll

Cancer killed 7,586 people in Pennsylvania in 1921. This is a death rate of 85.5 per 100,000 population, a higher rate than that caused by tuberculosis of the lungs, which was 78.9 higher than the diphtheria rate, 22.5, or typhoid fever, 7.3.

Cancer brings death in an agonizing form, yet the disease is often curable if taken in time.

The State health commissioner says: "A death from cancer of the skin or of the mucous membrane near the skin, as the mouth, lips, tongue or cheek is an entirely avoidable death. These cancers in their beginnings can always be cured. [illegible] mation which ultimately turns into cancer. A wart which grows and becomes inflamed, a mole which exhibits the same tendency, a little skin patch which scales and persists, these are the common signs which require attention and which can be cured before cancer develops.

"A painless application of radium will usually cure it," he continued "Sometimes the knife under local anesthesia, which makes the procedure so painless there is not even a wrinkling of the brow when the needful cut is made and the one or two stitches applied. A sore spot on the lip which persists more than a few days may be the forerunner of cancer—fever blisters last at most but a few days. Persistent sores on the tongue or cheek should be regarded in the same light. Lumps in the breast or growing anywhere call for immediate attention. By modern methods the removal of growths is entirely safe and painless.

"Internal cancer could be cured, and always, except that in its beginning it usually gives no sign and not until it is largely developed can it be detected by examination."

President, World's Women's Christian Temperance Union

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—For 40 years the Women's Christian Temperance Union has been working for prohibition in 40 nations.

An international educational program has been conducted in practically every civilized part of the globe Thousands of workers speaking many languages have been carrying forward the work.

All over the world we have been imparting to peoples of all the races the fundamental knowledge of the effect of alcohol on the human system.

Discouraged and Encouraged

Difficulties and obstacles of course have beset these W. C. T. U. workers but they have been encouraged and cheered on by two facts:

One: They always have known they were a part of a great organization, that they were all banded together for one purpose, and could count on the support and co-operation of their fellow workers everywhere.

TWO: Almost from the beginning we achieved some results; and with the passin years and the extending of our efforts into newer and larger territories we have seen the work going successfully forward.

In recent years great strides toward world wide prohibition have been made. With these advancements many reinforcements have joined our ranks. Many rational, thinking men and women the world over who were not originally in sympathy with prohibition have come to see the sound scientific basis of our program and the necessity of our [illegible] joined with us [illegible] their best ef- [illegible]

It is based on established scientific facts that prove beyond question the injurious effect of narcotics on the physical and nervous system.

We have worked largely with the school and other educational officials and authorities, and almost without exception they have shown the keenest interest and readiest disposition to cooperate with us.

Second Ward People Have Real Community Spirit These Days

The community masquerade party in the Reedsville hose house was the success that neighborhood gatherings in Second Ward always are. As usual, the firemen were behind the scheme, issuing the invitation and playing hosts in their big roomy hall.

By count at the door, there were 250 present, with 127 in costume to be reviewed by the judges, S. B. Smith, James McLaughlin and Richard Fleck. Those awarded were 1st, Ed Blake; 2nd, Mrs. Lloyd Wilson; 3rd, Milford Thomas. The crowd amused themselves with games and dancing, square and round, well mixed in with general neighborly visiting The inspiration was entirely originated in Reedsville, proving that the Second Ward people have the real community idea.

Girl Scout troop 5 hiked out to Carter's Green last night with their captain, Miss Grace Butler. Camp fire, bacon, rolls and frankfurters were on the program as usual. This is just the sort of thing the Scouts are up to all the time.

Sanity Of Alleged "Twin Bluebeards" Tested By Expert

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—The sanity of the alleged "twin Bluebeards" was tested today on order of the Chicago courts. Dr. William J. Hickson, city psychopathic expert, was with the women for over four hours during which time he applied every test known to modern science to determine whether the woman should be held criminally responsible for the many crimes charged against them. At the conclusion of the tests he announced that he believed the woman sane although there was a trace of dementia praecox. During the examination Mrs. Klimek sneered and grunted at the questions and gave little assistance to the examiner.

A friend of the Klimek woman today told the authorities some wild stories about her neighbor, stories which she said were unbelievable and which she did not repeat heretofore. One of them was that after the death of her third husband Mrs. Klimek told her of his death and of how she lifted his head in the coffin and laughing in his face said, "You'll never get up again, damn you."

Heart Broken Mother Begins Crusade To Clear Son's Memory

Wife of The Major General Believed That Son Had Been Foully Slain

By FRANK A. CLARVOE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER II

The war with the Central Powers came to a successful conclusion, Nov. 11, 1918. On or about that day another war started, the war of a heart-broken mother determined to vindicate the character of her boy and remove from his name foreever whatever doubt there might have been in the minds of some as to manner of his death.

Mrs. Adelbert Cronkhite, wife of Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, commander of the 80th. division of the A. E. F., and mother of Major Alexander Cronkhite, killed at Camp Lewis by the accidental discharge of his own automatic while shooting at a target, according to the verdict of an army board of inquiry, started a personal investigation of the circumstances surrounding her son's death.

This necessitated long trips to various parts of the country, the interviewing of numbers of officers and men who had known her son and former Captain Rosenbluth, and the writing of hundreds of letters to men who might have even a remote knowledge of the tragedy at Camp Lewis the afternoon of October 25, 1918. She was aided in this work by General Cronkhite when he returned from France.

So energetically did Mrs. Cronkhite work that she was able to gather a mass of evidence. She turned this over to the department of justice together with the report of a number of experts Mrs Cronkhite had employed to exhume the body of her son and examine the wound. These experts reported that the major could not have inflicted the wound himself either by accident or design. Major Cronkhite was right handed and would have had great difficulty in shooting himself in the right arm pit in the manner in which the wound was inflicted, these experts claimed. The department of justice into session, and for the second time a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Thus ending the second episode of the search for the slayer of Major Cronkhite.

Mrs. Cronkhite's investigation extended well into 1919. Ostensibly her investigation ended with the verdict of the second board of inquiry Actually it did not. Both Major General and Mrs. Cronkhite appeared tireless in their search for evidence which would convince the authorities that her son was murdered, and not shot by a weapon in his own hand, either accidentally or by design.

First Real Sensation

It was in 1921 that the first real sensation was caused in the Cronkhite case, as it came to be called in official army circles and among editors and the public generally. On March 17, 1921, Roland H. Pothier, former bugler sergeant, was arrested in the Auburn freight yards at Providence R. I. He was jailed, and on March 19 it was learned that Pothier had confessed in full to the murder of Major Alexander Cronkhite. He pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter. Great mystery surrounded his arrest, a mystery seemingly as unfathomable as that surrounding the arrest of ex-Captain Robert P. Rosenbluth in the Civic club in New York City March 23, 1921. Rosenbluth apparently could shed no light upon the arrest of either Pothier or himself.

Then it was announced that Rosenbluth was charged with the murder of Major Cronkhite at Camp Lewis in 1918 It was learned that in five affidavits Pothier charged that Rosenbluth gave him an automatic a few days before the fatal practice march and told him: "I want to 'get' Major Cronkhite." According to Pothier's confession, no reason had been given by Rosenbluth for the deed. Pothier said Rosenbluth promised him immunity. Pothier went on to say he

THE BEST VALUE A DOLLAR CAN BUY NOW OFFERED

Your Dollar Given Last Year Helped Many of Your Neighbors to Live Healthier and Happier.

AN OBJECT LESSON

Sunday Clearfield Chapter American Red Cross which embraces practically all of the county except DuBois, Morris and Cooper townships, will carry on the annual Roll Call for Red Cross Members. It is inconceivable of course that anybody who can possibly spare a dollar will not have it ready and be waiting for the house to house solicitors when they call here in Clearfield on Sunday for the memberships. There will be a heavy re-enlistment in all the other towns and in the communities under the banner of Clearfield Chapter.

Last year and every year before it was a common occurrence for those who were unavoidably away from home to let their dollar with a neighbor to be given to the solicitor. Many Many of the solicitors found people waiting on the porch with the money for not only one member of the household, but in many instances, a dollar for each one in the family, and then the membership card was proudly displayed in the window. In some homes these cards are kept in the windows the year around and no better example of true citizenship could be followed.

The work of the Red Cross in this community is too well known to need any great publicity in preparation for the roll call solicitation but here is an example of one of the dozens of cases the Red Cross nurse finds and how it was handled:

"Family in poor circumstances—Husband out of work, back with the rent for two months.

4 children, ages 7, 5, 3 and 1.

Mother came to the office asking for help in way of clothing for oldest child. Unable to go to school. No clothing or shoes. Has had pneumonia.

Secure relief through another organization. Saw real estate dealer, he saying 'He would not push them for payment of rent.' Very grateful.

At a later date Nurse received letter from mother saying she had been sick for two weeks asking nurse to come in. Nurse found patient suffering from an attack of grippe. Gave nursing care and arranged to have physician attend her. After she had recovered secured employment for mother when she was able to work.

Later when the baby became ill nurse arranged to have the baby admitted to hospital as patient. As it was necessary for mother to be with the baby at stated intervals during the day employment was secured for mother at hospital where she stayed until the baby died.

Husband now working and family is self supporting."

The question arises, "what would have become of this family without the agency of the Red Cross?" We hesitate to imagine. No doubt the little home would have been broken up, and the home is the very hearthstone of our republic.

This is only one case. In the larger field in this Chapter there were 3256 nursing visits to homes, 2186 made pilgrimages to headquarters for help; 642 babies were brought to the rooms for attention; a total of 6226 lives made brighter. Isn't that worth a dollar a year to you?

6268 school children were examined by a physician in the presence of these nurses who in each case gave advice and help which prevented sickness and pain and will make of these boys and girls healthy, upright citizens.

The above is just a smattering of the great work [illegible]

Cronkhite was some yards away from the column of troops setting a tobacco can on a bush to use as a target. Pothier said he slipped three shells into his automatic while the officer's attention was thus engaged, and fired one shot wild. Major Cronkhite turned, and as he did so, Pothier fired again, where, he said, Rosenbluth had told him to shoot the major.

Just after he fired, Pothier said he heard a second shot, and Rosenbluth came running up. He looked at the major and said: "I think he's dead." The captain then drew his superior officer's body parallel with the roadside and whipped out his automatic, Pothier said he noticed the flap was loosened, fired at the tobacco can.

"If anybody says anything, you say he shot himself while shooting at that can," Pothier said Rosenbluth told him. This, according to Pothier, was the account not told at the board hearing, where the major's death was declared to have been accidental.

A reason for Rosenbluth's alleged action was given by a department of justice agent, who reported that Mrs. Cronkhite had discovered that Rosenbluth was angered at Major Cronkhite, who was 24 years old and 16 years Rosenbluth's junior, because Cronkhite had been severe in his attitude toward Rosenbluth's low grade as an officer. Rosenbluth, this report said, knew that Major Cronkhite was giving him his final test on the practice march, and had determined to make an end of him.

Denies Entire Story

Rosenbluth, when confronted with Pothier's confession, denied the entire story, declaring that he and Cronkhite were good friends, and that the latter had been instrumental in bringing him, Rosenbluth, to Camp Lewis from Camp Forrest, Ga., as a member of the 213th. engineers, and had caused him to be placed at the head of Company D. Rosenbluth said he was present at the time the major was killed, but that he had approached the spot with his column from an entirely different direction had halted his column 40 yards distant, and had moved forward alone to watch Conkhite shoot. Pothier Rosenbluth said, was standing near the major.

"I got it, Rosy," Rosenbluth said the major announced gleefully, as he came up, then, a moment later: "My God, I'm shot." Rosenbluth said he snatched at the officer as he fell, and for a moment did not realize he had been shot. He thought it might have been heart disease. Cronkhite was dead in two minutes, and his body was taken to the camp hospital.

Rosenbluth was released on twenty five thousand dollar bail, having retained counsel who forthwith went to Washington to see Attorney General Daugherty. The Providence, R. I., American Legion assigned Major Davis G. Arnold to handle Pothier's case. On April 19 Attorney General Daugherty, at the instance of Senator William M. Calder, of New York and Herbert Hoover, who formerly had been Rosenbluth's employer, had talked with Rosenbluth and promised personally to handle the investigation of the murder charges against him.

This Daugherty apparently did, with the aid of several operatives. On April 21, Senator Calder announced that Major Arnold had revealed to him that Pothier repudiated his confession of a month previous, and had been released on $10,000 bail. Pothier had decleared both he and Rosenbluth were innocent of any connection with the death of Cronkhite, according to Arnold.

On July 16 Attorney General Daugherty announced that the charges against both Rosenbluth and Pothier would be dropped by the government since he believed the federal government had no jurisdiction in the matter. His basis, for this contention, it was announced, was that the spot where Cronkhite was killed was on land forming a part of the later military reservation but which had not, on October 25, 1918, been deeded by the state to the United since Cronkhite was killed on land which at that time belonged to Pierce county. Selden announced that he States government. Daugherty announced this contention later in a signed statement August 20, 1921, it was reported, and turned over all data connected with the case to Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Selden, of Pierce county, Washington, as the officer having proper jurisdiction, would not take action against the two men with the evidence then in his possession, and there the matter seemed to rest. Apparently the case had been dropped, and Rosenbluth in a published statement July 18, 1921, deplored the fact that he had not been vindicated, and reiterated earlier statements that for some reason or other "somebody had it in for him and was trying to get him".

OFFICIALS CONFER PRIOR TO SENDING EVIDENCE TO JURY

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 17.—Special Prosecutor Mott and the county officials met at Sommerville today to make the final arrangements for the presentation of the Halls-Mills case to the Grand Jury on Monday.

Prosecutor Mott declared that the case is complete and the sooner the jury gets it the better. He has previously, however, let it be known that he would not attempt to force an indictment. "That is for the jury," he said "Their's is the responsibility."

Detective Mason told the newspaper men that at least two witnesses, very important ones, would be called before the Grand Jury who have never figured in the news.

If Congress legalizes beer and wine taxes from that source would pay off the nation's entire debt in twenty years, Treasury experts declare.

The national debt is $23,000,000,000. More than $1,000,000,000 a year revenue is possible from beer and wine taxes—leaving hard liquor out of consideration.

The tax experts of the Treasury have prepared these figures in anticipation of a call from Congress for data on which to gauge possible tax revision.

The people in England and America are drifting farther and farther away from organized Christianity, according to J. Rountree Gillett, of London, in a recent lecture in Philadelphia.

"Certainly in England life is drifting away from organized religion," says Mr. Gillett. "Only 16 per cent of the English people attend any place of worship, which means that 84 per cent. are entirely free of any religious association."

Mr. Gillett said this tendency in America and England to "isolate" religion and keep it "apart from the life of the community" was a dangerous sign of the times.

"Society will soon be living without any ideal, or any standard," he declared.

DETROIT PLAN OF PENALIZING AUTO DRIVERS SPREADS

New York City, Nov. 17.—The Detroit plan of punishing speeders and reckless automobile drivers in forcing the defendants to parade before a long row of cots on which lay crippled children, the victims of speed fiends and reckless drivers, met with hearty endorsement from practically all traffic court judges here today. Only two judges interviewed failed to give hearty endorsement.

The idea of inflicting mental torment and humiliation on the speeders originated with Judge Bartlett of Detroit and it is believed that it will soon be put into practice in other communities which have been unable to curb automobile owners. There is also an agitation for having the same punishment inflicted on parents who permit their children to wander in the streets.

"Don't Get Up Nights Anymore"

Indiana Manufacturer Suffered with Bladder Trouble for Years. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) Made Him Well.

No one need suffer the pain and annoyance of bladder trouble, getting up many times each night. C. F. Melcher, Vevay, Ind., manufacturer, says: "I took Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) in April and have been waiting until August to see if the good results were going to be permanent. I am confident I am all O. K. In fact, I feel as well as ever. Before I took Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) I had to get up two to five times every hour at night and was bothered nearly as much in daytime. It got so bad I could not go any place to visit or work, for I had no control of my bladder. I am all right now and have no trouble at all. I will be glad to tell any sufferer what Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) did for me."

Sufferers from bladder trouble will be surprised at the impurities passed after a few doses of Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula). These impurities cause the bladder trouble. This is not a patent medicine. The formula is printed on the package. It acts on the kidneys and bladder similarly as do Epsom Salts on the bowels. Try a few doses for frequent desire at night, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine. Lithiated Buchu tablets (Keller formula) is not a cheap medicine. They cost 2c each and contain several drugs which are useful for relief of this trouble. Learn all about Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) at Stewart's Drug Store and druggists everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O.

When Guests Come to Tea

YOU CAN SET A MORE ATTRACTIVE TABLE IF YOU'LL ALLOW US TO LAUNDER THE LINEN

The table you set for tea can be made more attractive, more dainty, if you'll have us launder the table linen.

All you need do is to bundle up everything and phone for our representative.

A few days later your washing is returned spotlessly clean and white, with everything thoroughly washed, the flat pieces beautifully ironed, garments which need it starched, and with only a few of the lighter things for you to finish at your leisure.

Women who use this service tell us it really cots less to launder this way than to have a laundress.

We'd like to tell you more about it. Telephone and we'll have a representative call

The Department of Commerce announces that the returns compiled by the Bureau of Census show that over seventy-six thousand deaths were due to cancer in the death registration area of the United States in 1921, and assuming that the rest of the Untied States had as many deaths from this cause in proportion to the population, the total number of deaths from cancer in the entire United States for 1921 was 93,000, while for 1920 the number is estimated as 89,000 or 4,000 less than for 1921.

The trend of the cancer death rate is upward, the rate for 1921 being higher than that for any earlier year in 23 of the 34 states for which rates are shown in the following table. The cancer death rate in the registration area in 1921 was 86 per 100,000 population, against 83.4 for 1920. In comparing the death rate from cancer in one state with that in another, the Bureau uses "adjusted" rates in order to make allowance for differences in the age and the sex distribution of the population, because, generally speaking, only persons in middle life and old age have cancer, so that a state with many old persons may be expected to have more deaths from cancer than a state with comparatively few old persons.

The highest "adjusted" cancer rate for 1921 is 99.6 per 100,000 population for the state of Massachusetts, and the lowest is 47.6 for the state of South Carolina.

For a few states adjusted rates have been calculated separately for the white and colored population. In this group of states the highest adjusted cancer rate for the white population is 95.9 per 100,000 population for New York and the highest rate for the colored population is 90.6 also for New York. The lowest adjusted cancer rate for the white population is 51.5 for Tennessee and the lowest for the colored population is 36.4 for Florida.

Summarized briefly, the adjusted rates show that the Northern states have comparatively high and the Southern states comparatively low cancer mortality, while there is little difference between the adjusted cancer rates of the white and colored races of the same states. In other words the white and colored races seem equally susceptible to cancer, but both races seem less susceptible in the South than in the North.

In Pennsylvania during 1921 there were 7,588 deaths from cancer, an average of 84 persons per 100,000 population, which by the way is the population of this county.

Hear the cancer discussion at the High School tonight.

THE OLD HOME TOWN —:— By Stanley

FREIGHT SERVICE RENDERED BY N. Y. C. IN OCTOBER WAS A RECORD BREAKER

A total of 850,[illegible] tons of freight were moved during the month. The number of cars loaded at stations on the lines reached the heretofore unequalled figure of 406,[illegible], while 443,966 cars were received from connections.

The nearest approach to this record-breaking performance in freight movement was in August, 1920. During that month the New York Central Lines moved 834,244 cars of freight. The number of cars loaded at stations on the lines was 381,718 and 452,[illegible] cars were received from connections for movement to destination.

September and October, 1920, also were banner months. In September 388,[illegible]0 cars of freight were loaded at points on the lines and 419,775 cars were received from connections, making a total of 808,615 cars. In October 392,425 cars were loaded at stations on the lines and 436,584 cars were received from connections, a total of 823,009 cars.

Box-car loadings for the months of October this year, exclusive of automobiles, were the largest in the history of the New York Central system. On an average 8427 box cars were loaded daily, on a total of 219,102 cars for the 26 working days of the month. The daily average was 721 box cars more than for October, 1921.

During October of last year the daily loadings of box cars averaged 7706, on a total of 200,,856 for the 26 working days of the month. The total number of box cars loaded in October 1920 was 194,451.

The percentage increase in the average daily loading of box cars for October this year over the same month last year was 9.2 per cent and the increase over October, 1920, was 12.8 per cent.

September had set a high record for box car loadings, the daily average having been 8230 cars. This was ten cars above the daily average for the month of August.

The figures on box car loadings do not include automobile and refrigerator cars.

The gigantic proportions of the freight business of the New York Central lines for the last month made unprecedented demands upon railroad yard facilities. All freight moving both East and West over the New York Central passes through Syracuse. In order to avoid congestion in the yards at this point, a number of trains have been dispatched intact through this important gateway, switching being done at other points where the demands upon yard facilities were not so great.

The biggest day in the Syracuse yards was on October 6th, when 9,263 cars of freight were hauled. If these cars had been made up in one train, it would have extended from Syracuse to Rochester, a distance of more than seventy miles.

The heavy movement of freight is still under way, indicating that November will be another record-breaking month.

Washington, D. Housing Construction Is Breaking All Records

Two Billion Dollars Invested in New Homes During First Nine Months of 1922—Fireproof Construction Favored—Rents Steady.

The year 1922, despite labor unrest and high prices, is setting a remarkable record in building construction in the United States. In the first nine months, new housing contracts totaled more than during the same period in any previous year of the nation's history. The value of the new homes constructed during that time is in excess of $2,000,000,000 and is 51 per cent greater than the building contracted for during the same period in 1921.

One feature, that investigation of housing construction develops, is the great percentage of new homes now being built by laboring men. Another indicates that substitutes for wood are now used in greater volume. These include steel and other metal frames and fittings, asphalt shingles and roll roofings.

Builders of new houses seem to be taking more to heart the lesson that government officials and conservationists have been driving home for years,—the lesson that the timber supply of America must be conserved. And in learning this lesson they have found that not only can substitutes for wood be used to advantage but that these substitutes make for economy, add to the life of the structure and reduce the costs of insurance and maintainance.

Fire Protection Demanded

The reports show that the average builder also is demanding all the fire and cyclone protection he can secure without unduly increasing his costs. If he lives in a section where violent windstorms occur, he is laying a roof that will "stay put." Where he encounters heavy fire risks he is seeking a material that has great fire-resistant quality. A roofing material of proven merit both from the storm-resistant and the fire-resistant standpoint is that is now being most widely used is the asphalt shingle.

Not long ago one of the leading cities in the South was swept by one of the most severe hurricanes ever recorded by the U. S. Weather Bureau. Property to the extent of millions of dollars in value was destroyed or damaged. Buildings were crushed and roofs were ripped off and scattered in every direction, yet in all of the devastated area, despite the 70 mile wind, not one asphalt shingle roof was damaged. Not one shingle was upturned and not a single leak developed. Asphalt shingles are not only waterproof but are impervious to freezing and to the rays of a hot sun.

The report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters on the recent disaster at Atlanta, Ga., showed that homes roofed with asphalt shingles ably resisted the flames. In some instances, while surrounding homes were destroyed, houses covered with asphalt roofing failed to ignite and remained intact.

Home Owners Increasing

Less than 50 per cent of the American people are homeowners and only 20 per cent of American dwellings come up to the recognized standards. There has never been so great an interest in new dwellings and improvement of houses already built as shown this year. In 1920 there were 11,400,000 home owners in the country. The number has been greatly increased during the intervening two years. There are 13,000,000 home owners in the United States today.

Reports show that there is now no housing shortage in Boston, and rents on residential and business properties are classed as steady; Charleston has a housing problem, but rents are slightly reduced; Dallas has no housing shortage, and the trend of rents for homes is downward; Harrisburg, Pa., is short of homes, although building operations have doubled; Marion, Ohio, has no shortage and rents are stationary; Norfolk has favorable conditions, and some reductions in rent are noted; in Pittsburg conditions are normal and rents steady; Palm Beach has enough houses, and in Yonkers there is a shortage, with rents holding fast.

Havoc wrought by wind storm in the South—Many roofs of fireproof construction withstood the force of the elements, showing the great resistance of such construction to high winds.

PACKERS SEEK TO MERGE HOLDINGS IN TWO BIG UNITS

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—Alignment of the five great packing houses of the nation under two dominant groups or units under the leadership of Armour and Swift is the object of the present merger proposition which has been laid before the Federal government.

The present scheme is for Armour to buy the holdings of the Morris Company and then buy out Wilson. Morris always opposed the purchase of the Wilson interests fearing the strength of Armour. If these two purchases are made then it is the plan for Swift to take over the Cudahy plants and operate them as one unit.

Coats Are Shorter

Now that the vogue of the very short coat of fur is firmly established the fashionable woman begins to look for novel and attractive separate skirts. She finds them of camel's hair, buff-colored, mixed and woolly in many different models. For afternoon costumes velvet and velveteen are most in demand and are shown in drapod models.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep and figure droops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age. Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance and happy. When headache, backache, or "the blues" develops or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are constantly publishing in this paper.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Harvey Cook & Son have started the erection of an ice plant on North Filbert street. The building will be of brick and in size 50x25 feet. The plant is close to the run and that water will be used in the condensers, but the water for the ice itself will be taken from the Raftsman water main. What is known as the York machinery will be installed. The promoters expect to have the plant completed and in running order by the first of February. No more ice will be cut and housed in the large building at the river

Kelly is the most successful hunter that we have heard of so far this season. He was on the mountain the other day hunting pheasants and in shooting at and killing one bird, as he thought, he discovered that he had bagged three at one shot, having only seen one when he pulled the trigger. He always was a lucky cuss either in fishing or hunting, and the three birds at one shot is not such an amazing feat after all for him.

Sister Laura Gilliland, of Clearfield, who for seven years has seen service in Muhlinburg Mission, Liberia, Africa, will speak in the Lutheran church, this place, on Tuesday evening, November 21st, at 7:30 o'clock. To this service the public is most cordially invited.

A drive for membership to the Red Cross will be made on Sunday afternoon. The town will be doled off into eleven districts and authorized persons will visit all homes, asking each member of families to take out a membership card, the cost of which will be the sum of $1.00. Curwensville division has at the present time nearly 500 members on the roll, and it is the desire of those who have the work in hand to enroll a sufficient number of new names to run the list to the 1000 mark. The Red Cross society has done some wonderful good work in Curwensville during the year past, and if the populace gives it the financial encouragement that it should the Red Cross workers can reach out and extend help and succor to those who will be in need of their services. Miss Witherow, the Red Cross nurse that was stationed here, accompanied by a physician, examined in Curwensville, Mahaffey and vicinity 2190 school children, and the total number of persons directly affected by the nursing activities of Clearfield Chapter reached 14,914 Push the good work along and take out a membership card when approached in your homes on Sunday.

Mistaken Policy.

People shouldn't be so savin' with their smiles. The more you give the more you git, applies to pleasant looks. The feller that looks like he had a pain in his equator when he greets you is cheatin' hisself outen the joy of life.—Thomas Jefferson Putnam

London has taken the little round American soft hats and made them up in sets with scarfs to match. They're difficult to buy over here as yet, but are correspondingly easy to make so there's no reason why one should go without. They are made of suede, duvetyn or are knit out of wool and silk. Applique designs of leather or duvetyn are used on many of the knit sets and also all designs on the suede and duvetyn.

Which is the Heaviest Metal?

There are dozens of metals lighter than aluminum. Lithium, one of the lightest, has only one-fifth of the weight of aluminum. Gold, almost twice as heavy as lead, is not the heaviest. Platinum and iridium are heavier.

OPENING OF LINK FROM BROOKVILLE TO CLARION CAUSE FOR CELEBRATION

Brookville, Pa., Nov. 16.—Clarion, Brookville and intervening points yesterday afternoon celebrated the opening of the Brookville to Clarion improved road, a section of the Lakes-to-Sea highway.

Promptly at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a point near Corsica at which autos had been detouring for many, many months, Thomas North, Jr., principal of the Corsica Vocational School, used a pair of scissors to snip a ribbon that was stretched across the highway. Simultaneously the Brookville band struck up a lively air and amidst vociferous cheering Lee Humphreys, of Brookville, generally conceded to be the man largely responsible for the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway, drove his car across the line and on to Clarion, followed by a large fleet of cars.

With hundreds of Clarion citizens participating the event was celebrated in Brookville yesterday afternoon and last evening several hundred Brookville residents, accompanied by the county seat band, motored to Clarion where further celebration was held.

Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the recently completed stretch between Reynoldsville and Emerickville will be opened with appropriate ceremony. This will open a section of completed road nearly 80 miles in extent.

A Great Gift.

It is a great gift, you know—that of being really friendly with very different people. It is a pity more of us haven't it. To associate with the same kind of people all the time is apt to make one just a little narrow and dull, don't you think?

Hookworm is World Menace.

Of the estimated 1,700,000,000 people inhabiting the world, something more than 900,000,000 live in countries where hookworm infection is a serious menace to health and working efficiency. With increasing pressure for the development of tropical and sub-tropical lands, the control of this disease—as of malaria and sleeping sickness—becomes a matter of serious international concern.—Thrift Magazine.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-Known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of Sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulpuhr Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulpuhr Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss

CARVING SETS

When the time comes that you sit down to carve the Thanksgiving turkey, will you do it with ease or will you have to exert every atom of strength to carve the national bird simply because your carving knife is so dull that you can't make it go through?

With one of the sets that we are showing you'll have a knife that will carve easily and you'll really enjoy that task that you usually try to get out of.

Drop in and see the different styles of the sets. There are pearl handled sets, stag handled sets and ivory handled sets. Then there are silver handled sets.

You'll be surprised at how little you will have to pay for them.
